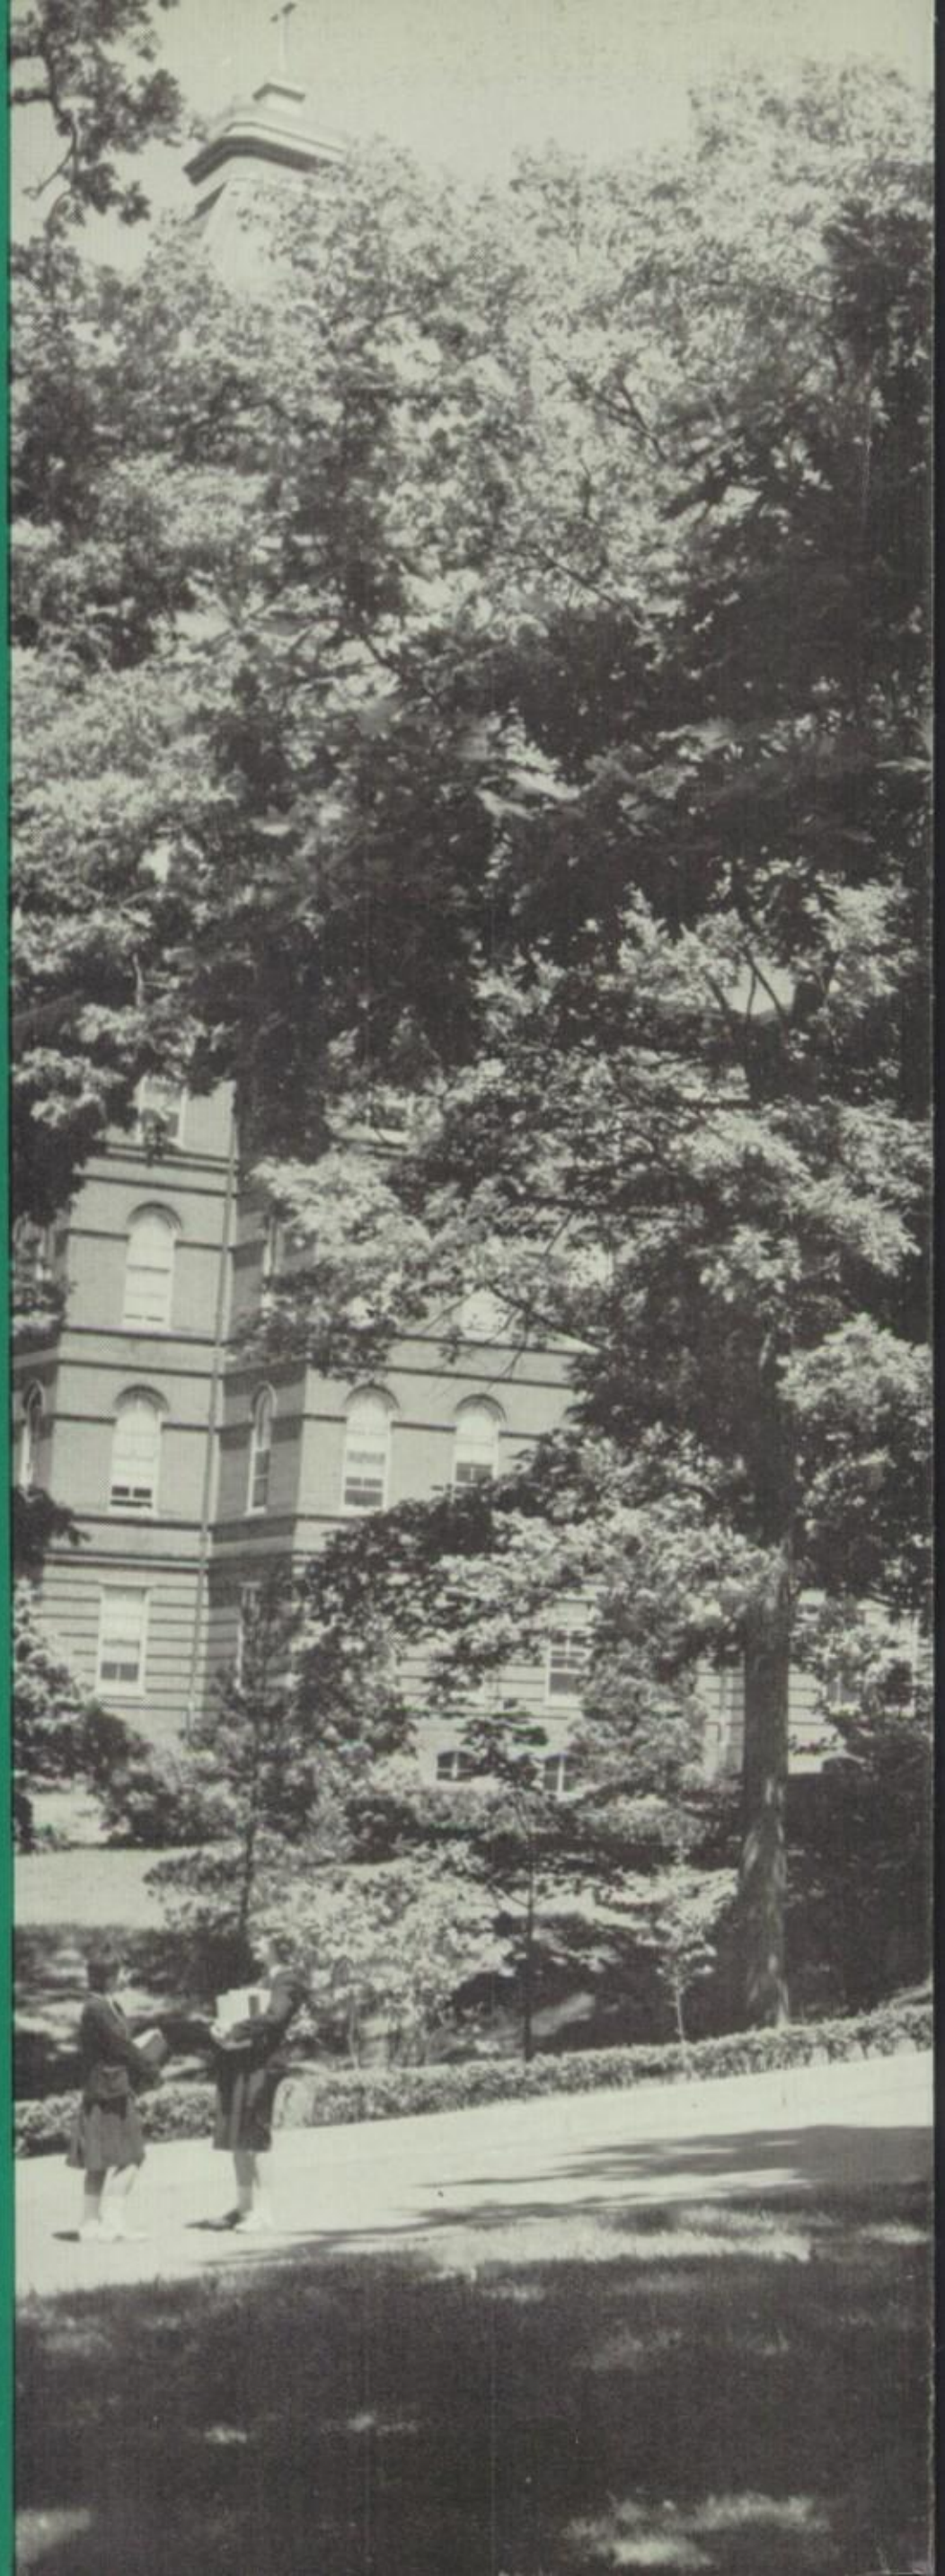
Our Lady's paths...

NOTRE · DAME · OF · MARYLAND

VERITATEM PROSEQVI-MVR

1960 Towers

Notre Dame Preparatory School Baltimore Maryland



For a mere instant in time, blue-clad daughters of Mary have traced the paths beneath her statue. Next year the paths will change; a newborn structure will house the search for truth. The past shimmers with the remembrance of the growth in love and truth which remains the essence of Notre Dame. In these our farewell pages, we shall recall that past in the events of a single year. And with the Virgin's image in our hearts, we shall greet the future.

Gateway...

June, 1960—For the last time we passed through the Gateway, a gateway to learning, and trod up the hill to the tall, red brick building. Throughout the day at the command of a bell we hurried silently to classes. As we entered the rooms, we realized that they were not mere "rooms." The high ceilings and stately windows reflected our aims. The walls echoed with Latin declensions and chemistry formulas. The pictures and statues reminded us that Mary and Her Son are always with us. We bid farewell to these rooms, but we shall never part with the knowledge gained within them.

Classroom to lab-an active day

Freshmen find their academic day eventful as, following religion in their respective homerooms, they pursue various studies. English, algebra and history afford the freshmen an enrichment of their previous courses, while Latin provides a new field of concentration. In addition, the 9A class is orientated to scientific wonders. To offer diversion from academic subjects, swimming and gym, as well as homemaking and vocal, provide a well-rounded curriculum for a freshman student.

CLASS 9B—front row: Susan Sanzo, Mary Jane Hoffman, Linda McCaffray, *S. LATIN PROJECTS are displayed by Mary Ostrowski and Carol Mullen who holds a replica of a Roman home.

PRACTICE CLASS MEETING presided over by Susan Counselman brings a smile to the faces of Pat Kelly and Kathy Kenny.

KNOWLEDGE FROM FILMS—A program is carried out by Helen McMahon, Joan Gavin and Veronica Horka as they project pictures for intent watchers: Debbie McParland, Sue Murphy and Pat Donegan.

Eager to become part of Notre Dame, the freshmen donned their ten-gallon hats and galloped through initiation round-up. Intensifying true Notre Dame spirit, '64 speedily proved themselves in scholastic achievements as well as social and athletic events. During Gym Meet, the frosh again exhibited ingenuity as old-fashioned dancing students.

CLASS 9C—front row: Carole Lears, Bonnie Pokrywka, treas.; Jane Hoff, captain; Mary Jo Matricciani, president; Judy Smith, v. p.; Judy Flaccomio, sec.; Mary Ann Marcantoni, *S. Returning with renewed vigor, the sophomores faced another challenging year of activities. Their biological interests were stimulated by the marvels seen beneath the microscope. Athletic and social interests were developed in capturing the basketball banner and sponsoring a dance with the juniors. While bidding farewell to their sisters, the Class of '62 also completed a second successful year in high school.

GEOMETRIC DESIGNS—Projects in geometry are displayed by Betsy McDonough, Martha Talbott, Mary Ellen McEvoy, Michelle Tayman and Betsy Maguire.

INTERESTING CROSS SECTION—Liz Hidalgo and Pat McGlannan look intently on a biology chart as Sue Sterner points out important features.

DISPLAYING A NEWSPAPER in Journalism class Ann Flanigan awaits comment from students: Francis Hanna, Charlotte O'Donnell, Pat Thompson, Pat Freiert, and Sharon Slear.

Journalists juggled

Recent upper classmen ceremoniously received symbols of their achievement and of loyalty to Notre Dame. Their enthusiasm and initiative led them to original accomplishments. After a New York holiday the struggling journalists delighted in managing the Gateway an issue earlier than usual. In the spring the juniors enjoyed a dance, which they sponsored with the sophomores.

Their last year on the old campus saw the juniors meeting academic success. Exploring the mazes of algebra and trigonometry, translating Cicero's orations, retracing American history, improving French or Spanish vocabularies, analyzing Hamlet's soliloquies, and examining many aspects of the sixth commandment were all part of their daily routine.

Senior year offered new courses for active minds. Although we have no Nobel Prize winners, chemistry spotlighted new fields of science. Advanced mathematics and English proved a challenge for many. While some continued language, psychology unfolded the workings of human behavior to others. Religion and sociology laid a foundation for future life.

FIRST PRIZE was awarded this library poster displayed by Judy Wall and Kathy Callis.

Study's reward

Commencing our activities as the last senior class at Charles Street, we initiated the freshmen into the spirit of Notre Dame. While endeavoring to conquer the mysteries of chemistry and trigonometry, the Class of 1960 planned ahead to Gym Meet and the Senior Prom. Unified, we strove for the final goal of four profitable years at Notre Dame—Graduation Day.

REVEREND ROBERT HILTZ blesses the seniors at the close of their day of recollection.

REWARDS FOR SCHOLASTIC ACHIEVEMENT were given to: Dee Green, Gladys Mangus, Carolyn McLean, Micaela Kelly, Lynn Phillips, Margie Alter, Pat Montley, Kristin Kesmodel, Maureen Shea, Mary Karen Hense, Kapie Polhmann, Nancy Smith and Anita MacMullan.

Valley...

Grave but gentle, the Sacred Heart stands a sentinel friend amidst the greens of the valley. With loving care, He dwells in each girl, prudently guiding her to become, in her four short years, a model woman, an honor to His Mother, Mary. One of the most vital roles in our development is played by organizations. With Christ's help, we mature by selfless interaction with fellow members; through His Heart we assimilate those principles of love which will direct our later lives.

echo of our hopes

S. O. CAMPAIGN FUN—Gladys Mangus, campaign manager for Sue Wright adds last minute touches to the bulletin board.

Promoting democratic action, our Student Organization entered its final year on the Homeland campus. The Christmas Card Drive, courtesy program, and revision of the constitution and point system achieved general recognition. Proceeds of the Jazz Concert sponsored with the Debate Club aided the Building Fund. Initiating future emblems, the S.O. conducted the selection of the new school ring and seal.

S. O. PRESIDENT—Joan Machen stands with her gavel, a symbol of authority which has enabled Notre Dame in the year of 1959-1960 to be overwhelmingly successful.

VOTING PROCEDURES—Peggy Mullan and Pat Morris look on as Joan Machen and Sue Wright demonstrate voting tactics.

To wear a key-a singular honor

Spotlighting character, scholarship, leadership, and service, the Le Clerc Chapter of the National Honor Society, claiming twenty-eight members, endeavored to foster in the student body a high regard for these ideals. Placing an emphasis on service, the group included in its activities the unassuming tasks of acting as ushers at the annual school play and the Junior Ring Ceremony.

JUNIORS honored by the society are: Marion McGloin, Lorrie Pieper, Gene Palmer, Frances Hanna, Sue Ciepichal, Sharon Slear, Linda Peterson and Jeanne Phillips.

A PREPARATORY PRAYER—Sodality members: Tess Horvath, Sharon Slear, Molly Ellard, Pat Freiert, Judy Mohan, Gene Palmer, Suzanne DeWald and Marie Neville recite the Act of Consecration.

Strengthened by dedication, "Ad Jesum Per Mariam," the Sodality promoted Catholic ideals through the school as a final tribute to Mary's campus. Personal sanctification and apostolic work combined to initiate the Charity Campaign, "RIC," Remember It's Christ. Through the Council the Probationers were taught that the Sodality is an entire Way of Life. The Sodalists conducted the Christmas ceremonies and the May Procession.

A WREATH OF FLOWERS serving as Mary's crown, the upper school students encircle her statue.

MISSION PEP TALK—CSMC president, Kris Kesmodel urges Pat Slaughter, Sue White and Carmel Carozza to a forthcoming successful year.

"Prayer, work, and sacrifice" ...our motto

Each year the CSMC holds its annual Mission Dance. This year the last dance on the Charles Street campus opened the Missions' 1959-1960 work. Planning and laboring together for its final progress more stamps and bandages were collected and more donations in Our Lady's Name were made to various Missions than any other year. The raffle of the racer car was the culminating event of the year.

BANDAGE COMMITTEE—Carol Rogers, Mildred Snydor, Pat Ernest and Anita MacMullin aid leper colonies throughout the world.

LEGION OF DECENCY—Lorrie Pieper, v.p., Pat McGlannan, rep., Bobbye Munder, president, Sally Dougherty, sec., Bobbie Davis, treas., check end of year reports.

The Legion of Decency highlighted their year by presenting modest styles in the fall and spring fashion shows. Other activities which kept the committees busy included: discussions concerning decency in literature and entertainment, cutting and packing coupons from the annual drive, and a slogan contest. These events were reminders of the club's aims—decency and modesty.

FASHION LINE-UP—Sue Hollander, Mikie McCaffray and Bobbye Lears carry through the Legion of Decency's "Modest Dress."

INTERESTING DISCUSSION is held with Father Dunn: Mary Kahle, Nicky Dupuy, Sue Parrish, Puddy Boyle, Mary Ann McNamara, Mac Callis, Cordia Sansone, Ann Trail, Donna Fitzpatrick, Judy Hochreiter, Sally Pessagno, Lindsay Knott, Susan Carozza, Sharon Dopman, Maureen O'Brien, Maribeth Gilliece, Mary Kaaren Hense and Sheila Flanigan.

Discussion revealed new viewpoints

Originally a mere group of students eager to attain a deeper understanding of their religion, the Discussion Club has taken rank, this year, among the regular organizations of Notre Dame. It still reserves its membership to juniors and seniors only. For them, Father Dunn approached difficult theological points such as predestination, and clarified the position of the Church toward actual questions such as birth-control and communism.

OFFICERS of Father Dunn's Discussion club plan a panel: Pat Scally, Jane Kroh, Mikie Armstrong and Mary Catherine Logan, president.

DURING THE BLESSING of the tree Mary Jo Matricciani, Sally Quinn, Annick Dupuy and Karen Jesatko enact the Christmas story.

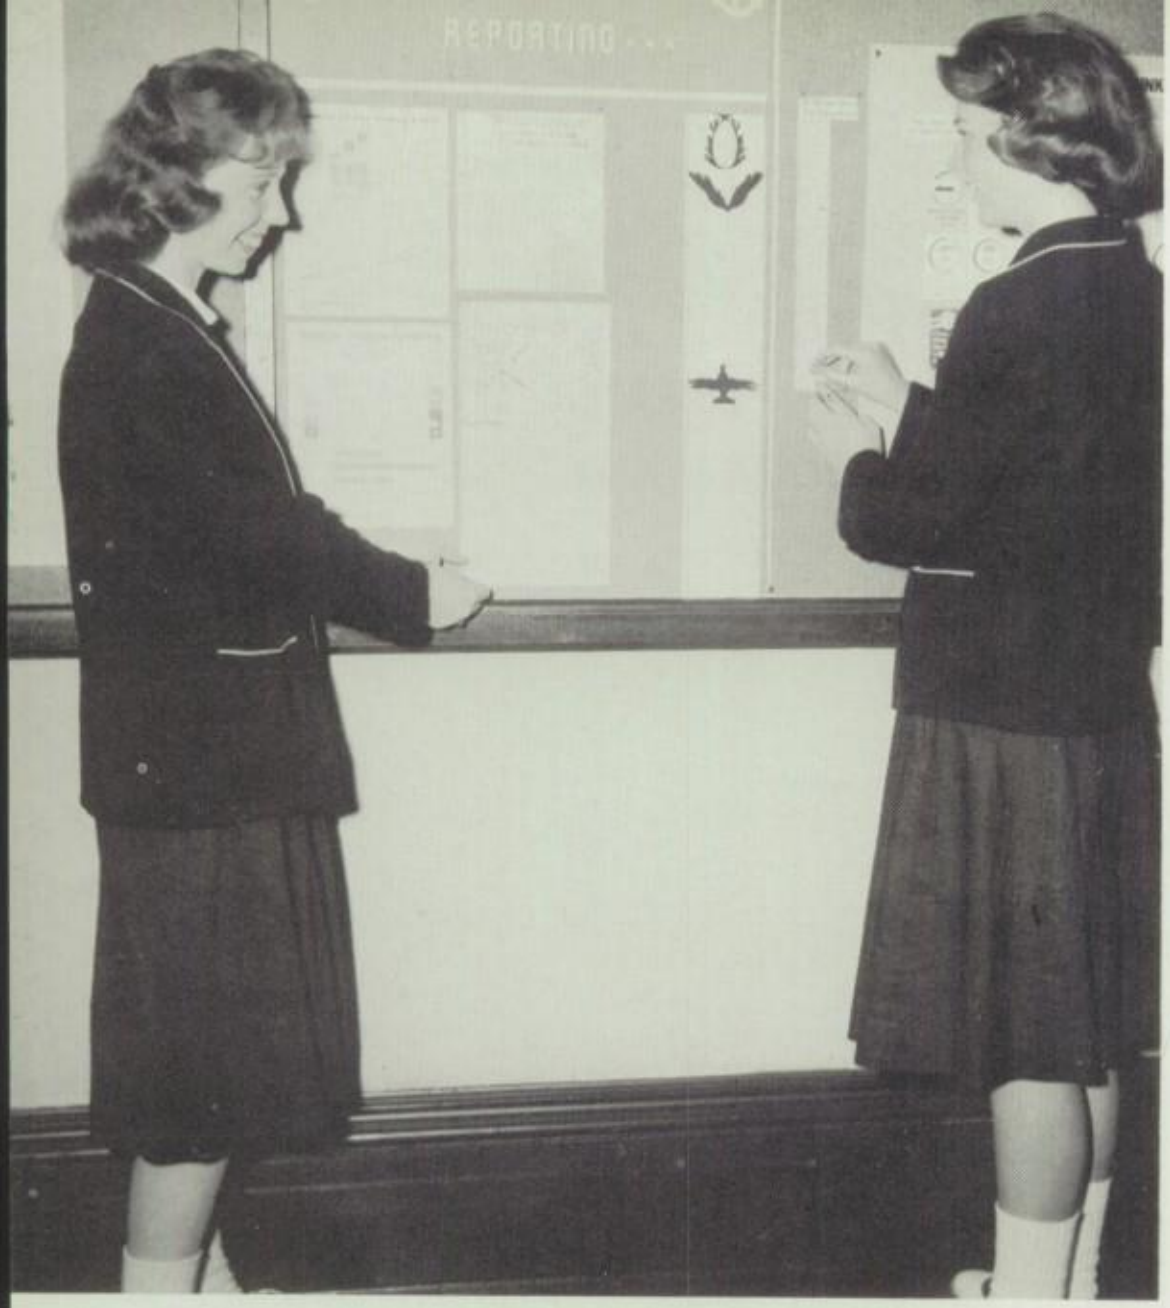
Good music and good fellowship mingled during the preparation for performances given by the Choral Club. Singing for the Christmas tableau and for the Baltimore shopping public at the Augusta Savings and Loan Association, constituted two chief activities. With the inspiration of its motto, "Music Is The Speech Of God," and under the direction of Sister Madeleine Marie, the Choral Club has terminated another successful year.

THE JOY OF A MELODY is rendered by choral club singers: Joanna Shehan, Colleen Meszaros, Frankie Stiertz and Kristin Kesmodel, accompanist.

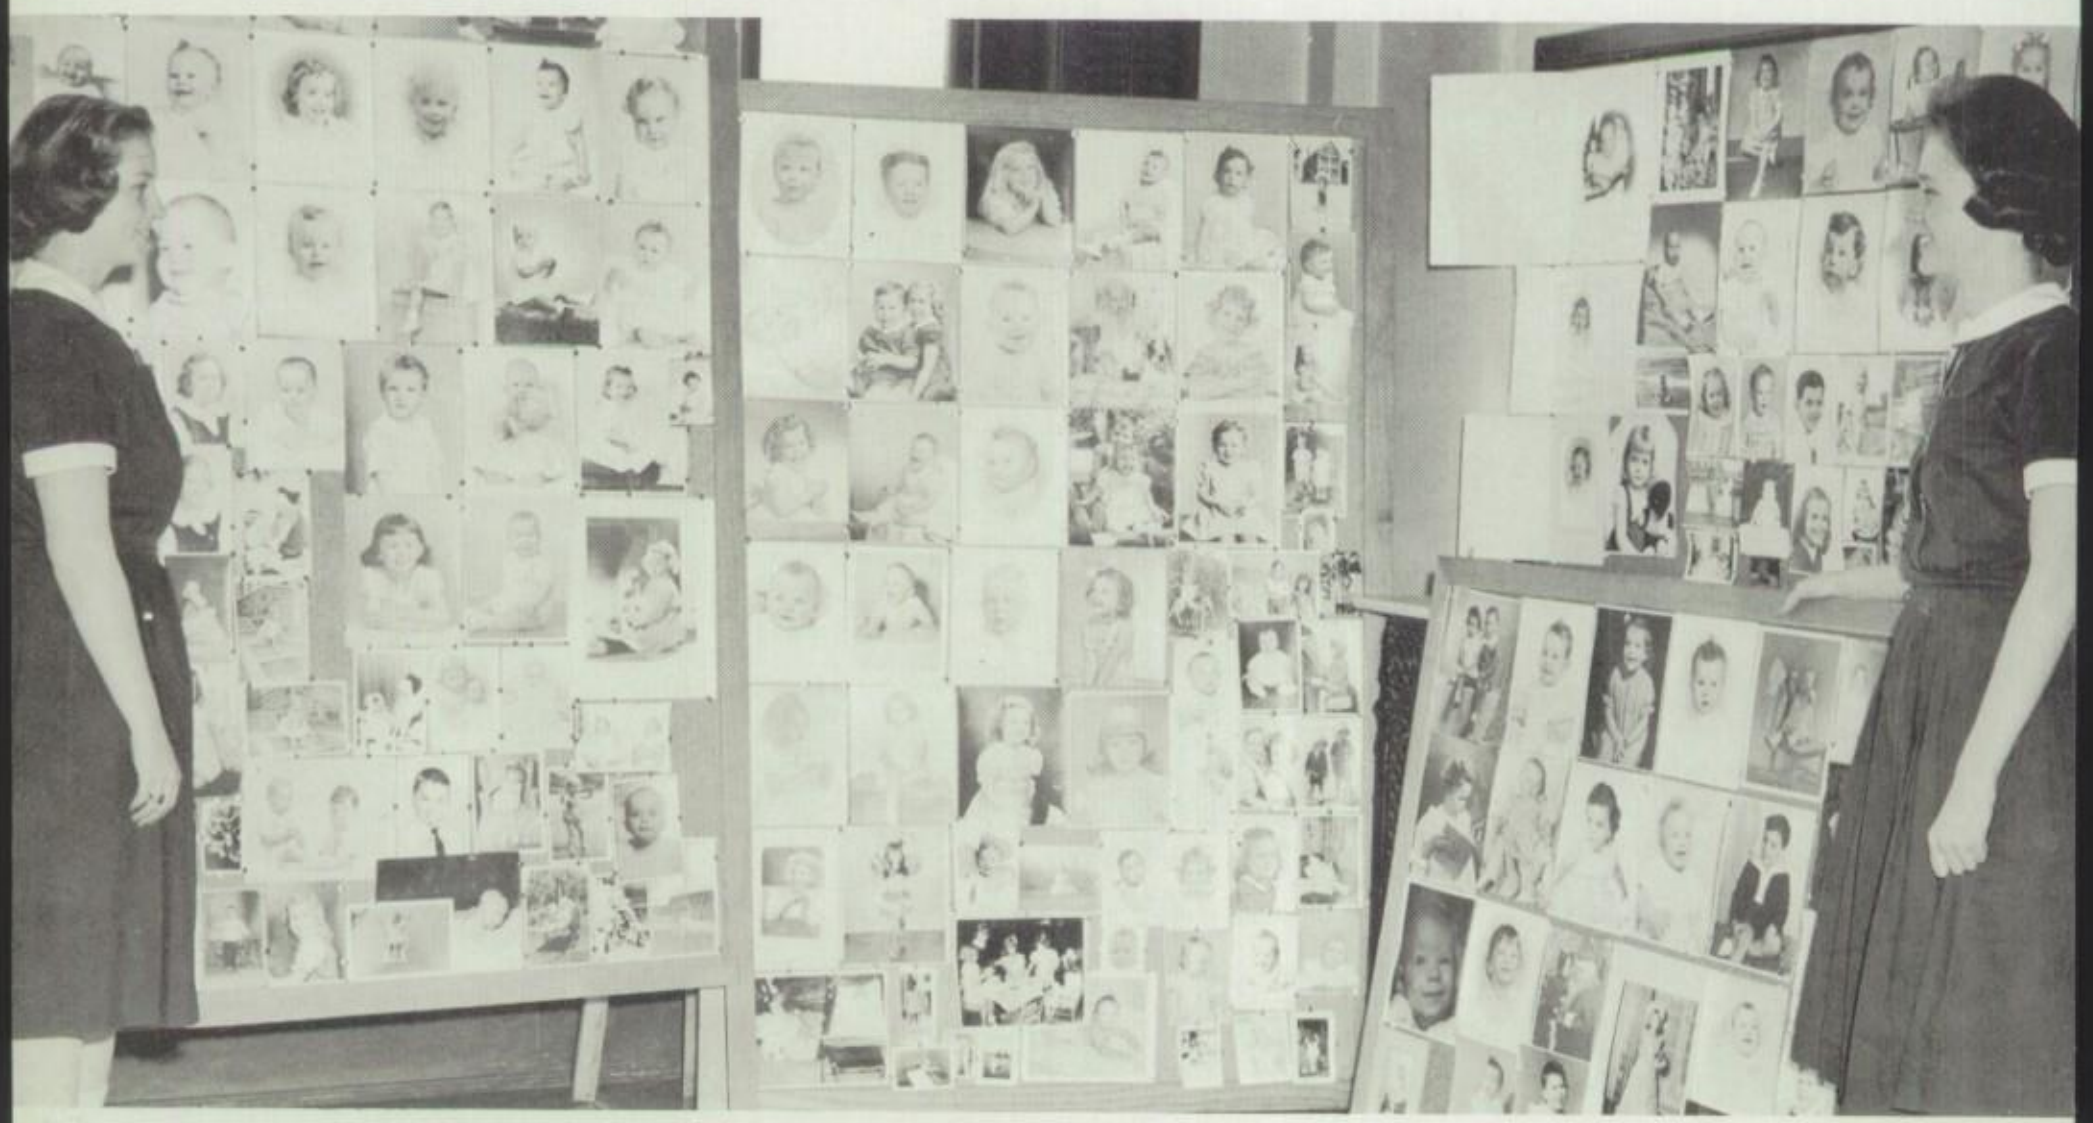


AN UP-TO-DATE BULLETIN is assured by Pat Slaughter and Mary Catherine Logan.

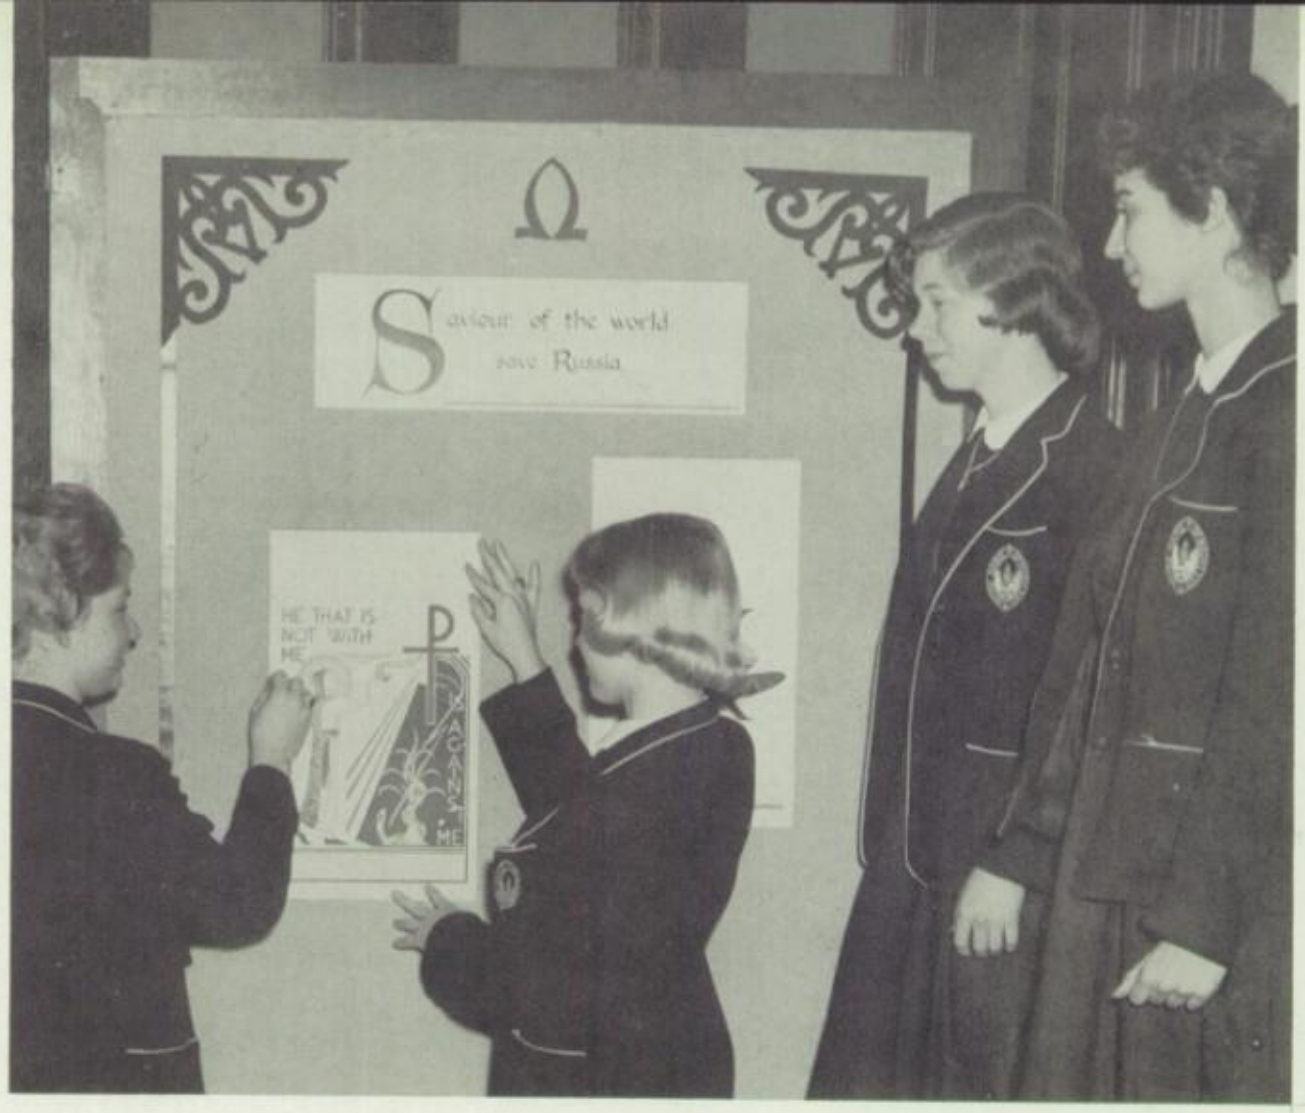
Beginning in the year 1948, the UNY has grown for the past twelve years to be one of the largest organizations at Notre Dame. Discussion groups, panels, and talks are among the UN's programs. Christmas gift boxes, candy for the poor children, and a school Baby Contest highlighted the activities for the UNY's last year on this campus.

U. N. research,

BABY DAYS—The prettiest, funniest, and most unusual picture is sought by Carol Toohey during a baby contest sponsored by the UNY.



FINISHING TOUCHES are given to the library bulletin board by senior members Bobbye Munder, Mac Callis, Anne Kennedy and Kapie Pohlmann.



library service

The Student Library Organization closed its last effective year at Notre Dame. Almost 9,000 books, periodicals dating to 1845, and all the visual aids were finally packed for transportation to Hampton. Unity of spirit featured in all library activities. New members were initiated to library procedures, to selling candy and African violets, and to sponsoring the Book Fair. To conclude the agenda two delegates attended the State Student Library Convention.

PACKING PLEASURE is enjoyed by the library officers Anne Kennedy, Mac Callis, Judy Wall, Kapie Pohlmann and Mary Jo Wood as they prepare for the move to the new school.

AS THE DEADLINE NEARS, busy journalists MK Hense, Maureen Shea, Tess Horvath, Sue Jervis, Joan Sincock, Laurie Kunkel, Gladys Mangus, Erin Mulligan and Lynn Phillips rush their reports.

"CHECK THAT SENTENCE" remind Frankie Stiertz and Maureen Shea, as Sally Witte, Anne Kennedy and Carolyn McLean editors of Gateway read over the paper once more.

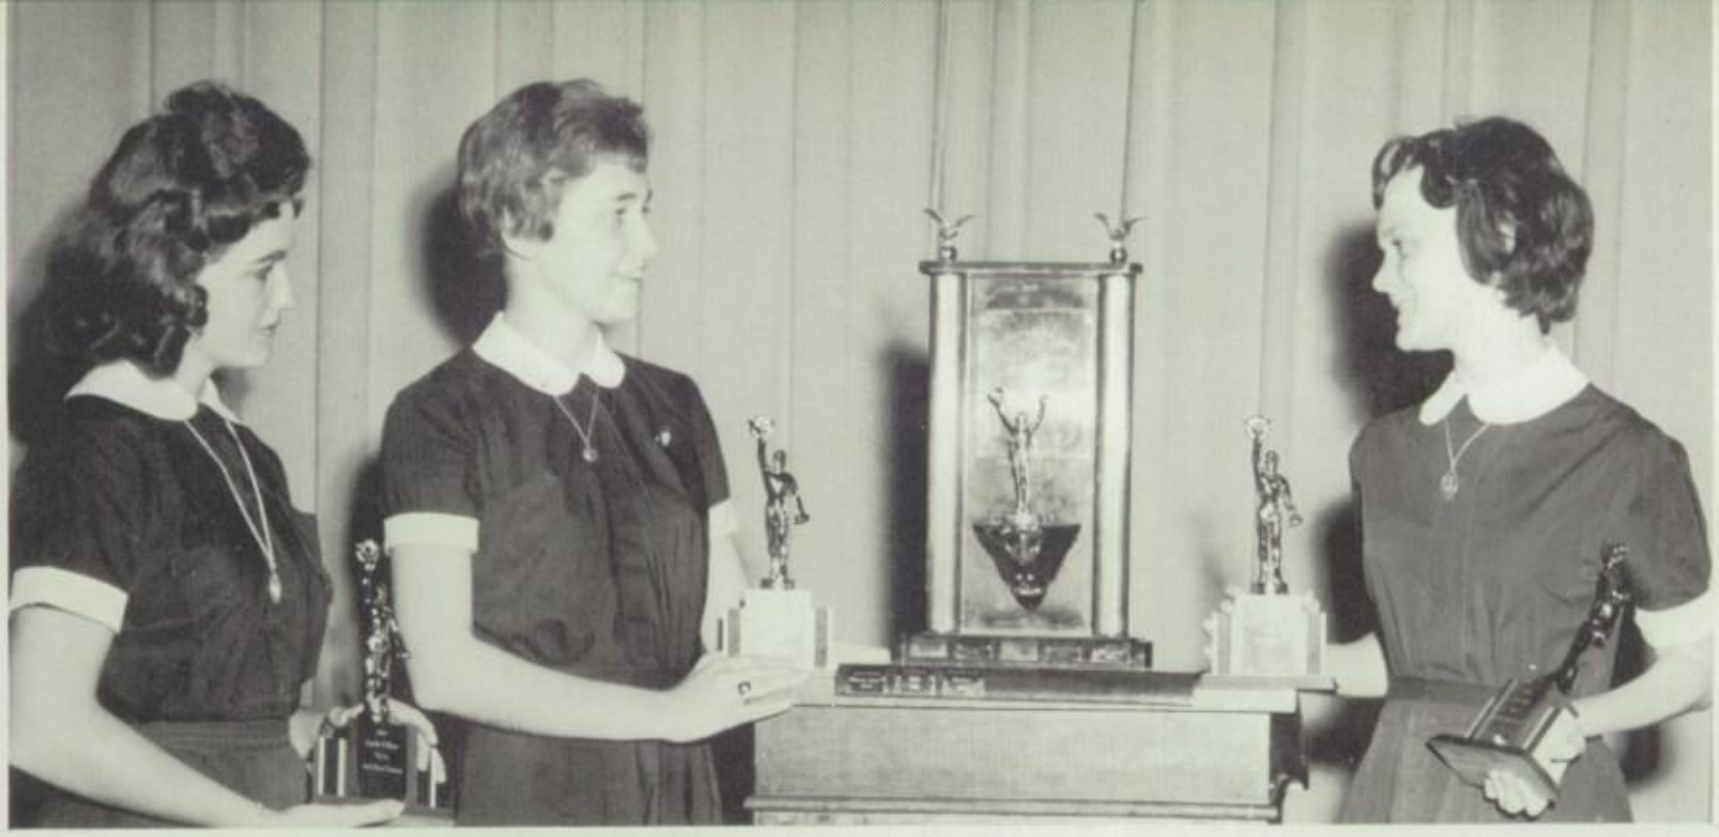
As the mouthpiece of Notre Dame, conveying her spirit, thoughts and actions, the Gateway has continually upheld the fine elements of journalism. The members of this year's staff, with Sister Marie Jerome as their new moderator, followed the example of their predecessors and merited for their effort a first-place rating at the Columbia Scholastic Press Association conference in New York.

A FEW LAST-MINUTE IDEAS are obtained by the Gateway staff, Margie Alter, Kapie Pohlmann, Jackie Moore, Nancy Smith, Kathy Gill, Marcy Peters and Joan Machen.

REVIEWING THE PAST are TOWERS staff members Sue Parrish, Molly Ellard, Kathy Wheeler, Laurie Kunkel, Marcy Peters, Margaret Ann Ham, Peggy Plunkett and Maxine Carozza.

Through word and picture, the senior TOWERS staff represented the story of our year. With the aid of advice recorded at the Columbia University lectures in October, and the guidance of Sister Ruth Marie, layout and copy was successfully completed. These pages retell the events of a year unified by loyalty and love for Notre Dame, our Queen.

NEW YORK BOUND—Maribeth Gilliece, Bobbye Munder, Cass Guthrie, Marie Neville, Bobbie Davis, Rosalie Martelle and Colleen Meszaros board the train anticipating the annual yearbook convention at Columbia University.



TKA TAKE-ALL—Sweepstakes trophy for debating and individual trophies for oratory are among the spoils brought home from the tournaments by Gene Palmer, Pat Montley and MK Hense.

THREE-YEAR VETERANS—Joan Sincock and Pat Montley complete successful year's debating with a pause to look at their trophies.

"For the greater honor and glory of God" is the motivation of the work done by the Le Clerc Debate Club. Active participation is encouraged in the oratorical contests and debates sponsored in conjunction with the National Catholic Forensic League. Funds raised from a Jazz Concert rewarded the efforts of contestants by sending them to the National Convention in New York City.

DEBATORS Pat Freiert and Gene Palmer listen to the scheduling of future debates from Suzanne DeWald, president of the Debate Club, and Joann Abromaitis and Peggy Plunkett, officers.

LEADING LADIES at the speakers' table during the banquet are A. A. officers Trish Mullan, Gladys Mangus, Marg Miller and Laurie Donnelly.

TRADITIONAL—Gladys Mangus officially opens Field Day with flag raising ceremony.

Sportsmanship-a goal

Spirit, 100% strong, was the main objective of the Athletic Association. The A. A. scheduled a full sports season. With the help of all classes, the patron drive for the school play far surpassed any other year. Earnestly the board harmonized their ideas and revised the constitution. Many rules were inaugurated for the particular benefit of students on the new campus.

Field...

A win or a loss — this was the scene of our triumph. Pucks scudded across the green, softballs swished through the air, sticks struck one another with all the might of determination, and baseball bats cracked homers to the outfield. Here was effort; here was striving. A spectacle, a defeat, a tie — all these will be labels on life's score-cards. But we learned the spirit, and we practiced sportsmanship on this field, so that ever we may say: this was the scene of our triumph.

scene of our triumph

LATHERED COWHANDS—Seniors, Bobbie Davis and Donna Fitzpatrick prepare to "shave" their freshmen, Mary Ann Baldwin and Cheryl Rosch.

Cowgirls roped in the ND spirit

"Be at the Montrose Corral at High Noon." This was the command extended by all seniors to their freshmen on the day traditionally known as "Freshmen Initiation Day." Mounted on broomsticks and attired in a "get-up" of boots, blue jeans, water gun, holster and a ten gallon hat, the class of '63 joined the ranks of Notre Damers. Dinner and a party climaxed the activities.

THE SIGNAL TO BEGIN the pie-eating contest is eagerly awaited by frolicking freshmen.

THE SUCCESS OF THE DANCE is reflected in the faces of seniors, Jo Shehan and Dee Kane.

Fall theme provided a setting

The C. S. M. C. opened the social calendar of Notre Dame under a Harvest Moon to the tune of the "Mellow Tones." One of the high points of the evening was the crowning of Connie Callis as the queen, an honor which she won in class competition. Vivacious couples and attractive decorations enhanced our Autumn Serenade.

AUTUMN REVEL QUEEN—Connie Callis happily accepts the honored crowning by Kristin Kesmodel at the annual mission dance.

A PROUD UNCLE, Monsignor John J. Duggan congratulates Sharon Slear while presenting her with the school ring.

A SMILING APPROVAL is given by Sister Mary Virginia as she hands the gold onyx ring to the anxious junior, Jean Brown.

Rings glistened

As a climax to three years of anticipation, the juniors were at last rewarded with their rings on September 28. After the presentation of the rings by Sister Mary Virginia, Lois Reid, Susan White and Lacy Boyle, the class presidents, explained the symbolism of the rings. This year's ring ceremony had a special meaning—it was the last time that the Notre Dame school ring would possess the Tower's insignia.

VERITATEM PROSEQUIMUR—Sue White gives the speech for the last ring ceremony to be held on the old campus.

CHECKING THOSE RULES—Mrs. Barlow gives a few last hints to Sharon Slear, Marcy Peters, Donna Fitzpatrick, Carol Fitzsimmons and Joanna Shehan.

Scores roared as birdies flew

The badminton team scored highly this year, marring their record by only one defeat. Success was possible under the competent coaching of Mrs. Joan Barlow and the capable management of Marcy Peters. Batting the birdies for three years were Marcy Peters, Joanna Shehan, Donna Fitzpatrick and Sharon Slear while Louise McCormick, Jean Leonhart, Carmel Carozza and Ann Flanigan have completed two successful years.

PREPARING FOR THE BIG GAME—Anticipation and excitement are shared by Jeanne Leonhart, Joann Lewis, Betty Bender, Louise McCormick, Ann Turner Carroll and Carmel Carozza, members of the varsity badminton.

AWAITING THEIR FIRST GAME varsity hockey team managed by Miss Kate Woodward consists of Lindsay Knott, Micaela Kelly, Lacy Boyle, Kathy Urban, Mary Claire Toohey, Mary Lou Flanigan, Carolyn Ostrowski, Francie Dugan, Sharon Dopman, Rosalie Martelle, Mikie Armstrong, Betsy Dwyer, Ann Trail, Pat Morris, Phoebe Ward and Thea Beck.

Spectators cheered the blue and white

Terminating the summer season with strenuous training and practicing at hockey camp, the team readily challenged their first opponents. Under the ardent coaching of Miss Kate Woodward, the varsity sticksters pulled ahead with a commendable number of victories. The highlight of the season was the win over Mount Saint Agnes.

CHALLENGING STICKSTERS meet as Carolyn Ostrowski rushes in to give a helping hand to her teammate Micaela Kelly as Lindsay Knott watches.

VICTORIOUS SENIORS pose happily after the announcement had been made about the class hockey banner: Maxine Carozza, Marg Lyon, Carolyn McLean, Connie Mongelli, Joan Machen, Margie Alter, Carolyn Finnerty, Judy Hochreiter, Gladys Mangus, Anne Kennedy and Mac Callis.

Under the interested guidance of Miss Kate Woodward, who was for the first year at the helm of the Notre Dame sticksters, the J. V. team enjoyed a profitable season. Losing only two games, the team exhibited courage, sportsmanship and the will to win. Martha Dugan captained the cohorts throughout the campaign and displayed active leadership.

"MAY THE BODY OF OUR LORD . . ." is prayed by Father Donahue as he distributes the Sacred Host to the awaiting communicants.

Retreat, our time of separation from the roar of daily living, lifted our minds to a supernatural plane, through the guidance of Father Donahue, Retreat Master for seniors and juniors, and Father Gallagher, Retreat Master for sophomores and freshmen. During this time of prayer and meditation, we became more fully aware of the presence of God, and through the renewal of the Sacrifice of Calvary, received Him into our hearts, to assist us through the journey of life.

Natators emerged victoriously

SHOWING the correct form, Jeanne Leonhart demonstrates the backstroke.

Splashing to three consecutive victories, NDM natators claimed a fifth undefeated season. Long hours of practice and a strong will to win continued to reward the mermaids. Combined team efforts gained for them victory over Dundalk, Friends, Washington and Lee High School. However, without the efficient coaching of Mrs. Barlow, success would have been impossible.

Preparations for the freshman's Gym Meet debut as a dancing class of the early '20's were handled by Captain Susan Buckley and Co-Captains Jane Hoff and Judy Fowler. Captain Mary Lou Flanigan, with Co-Captains Jean Leonhart, Pat Hoy, and Ann Carroll, helped carry out the Sophomore "Merry Oldsmobile" theme. Juniors achieved victory "neath Oriental Skies." Accepting the cup for the juniors was Betty O'Connell with Pat Reilly and Dotty Martin at her side. Concluding the last performance at Charles Street, seniors with Captain Frannie Sanzo and Co-Captains Lindsay Knott and Phoebe Ward, appeared as Arabian Knights.

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT—Donna Fitzpatrick, Joanna Shehan, Martha Dugan, and Louise McCormick loosen their muscles for the coming match.

Spring spotlighted sports, led by the tennis matches. Under the training of Mrs. Barlow the team was able to register two victorious games out of the four games played. Both Samuel Ready and Maryvale bowed to Notre Dame, while Friends and Roland Park nosed us out of the winner's circle.

DEPENDING ON THE WEATHER—Sunny skies are anticipated by Mrs. Barlow and the varsity tennis players Jeanne Leonhart, Martha Dugan, Donna Fitzpatrick, Joanna Shehan, Francie Dugan, Louise McCormick, Phoebe Ward, Betty Bender, Pat Morris, and Marcy Peters.

SENIOR CAPTAIN Frannie Sanzo receives the softball banner from Miss Woodward for her winning class team.

With potent determination, class softball teams once again challenged one another, each anticipating victory. Senior batters proved their superior skill copping the banner for the green and white. With arduous spirit and strong muscles they finished the season undefeated. Although the all-star players failed to defeat Towson Catholic in their one contest of the year, enthusiasm and unity ranked high.

EXCITEMENT is the keynote of the "Dizzy-Izzy" relay.

THE HEIGHT OF GLORY for Notre Dame's statue was the finale to our May Procession.

Our Lady's blue and white was seen proceeding through the shadowed valley one glorious day in May. As faces radiated the devotion within their hearts, the girls' voices rang clear with the rosary, litany and hymns. Mary must have been pleased to see her children stand beneath her statue and lovingly watch her crowning by Prefect, Tess Horvath and presentation of bouquets by class presidents.

Hail, Mary, Our Queen and Mother

DEDICATION—Flowers are placed at the foot of Our Lady by the Junior class presidents, Lois Reid, and Sue White.

THE QUEEN AND HER COURT—Tess Horvath, Debbie Donnelly, Alicia Tumulty and Mary VanMetre pause on their way to the crowning.

"STELLA MATUTINA" banner is carried at the beginning of the procession.

FUN, BUT—Stiff muscles and sore backs were a result of the back-to-back relay race.

"HERE I COME!" gasps Rosemary Seechuk as she approaches the first lap in the sack race.

"HURRY UP!" is urged by Joan Gavin to the freshmen emptying the bag in the relay.

FIELD DAY BANNER was won by the seniors and sophomores and received from Mrs. Barlow by captains Franny Sanzo and Mary Lou Flanigan.

EBBTIDE ENCHANTMENT creates atmosphere as MK Hense, Dee Kane and their dates "sit this one out."

BEFORE THE PRESENTATION Jo Shehan and Puddy Boyle are prepared to receive their bouquets of roses.

Ebbtide featured our farewell

LEADERS OF THE PROMENADE—Colleen Meszaros, Joan Machen, Pat Montley and their escorts head the senior line as it proceeds around the gym floor.

Within the ebb-tide enchantment of Le Clerc Hall Gym, the seniors danced to the tune of River's Chambers' melody on Friday evening, May 6. The sea-horses, starfish, and multi-colored cellophane fish surrounded ecstatic seniors from their introduction at the receiving line to the climactic promenade at midnight. After the escorts received the Notre Dame lighters, the three class presidents, the S. O. president, the prom chairman and co-chairman were presented with yellow roses, while the notes of Gateway arose from the "Ship's" orchestra.

LUSCIOUS REFRESHMENTS prepared by expert senior hostesses are relished by Carolyn Finnerty, Nohra Silva, Sue Jervis and Jackie Smith.

June 8, LeClerc's "Rec Room" was the scene of N. D. M.'s last Class Night on the Charles Street campus. Seniors enjoyed a buffet supper, after which 60's Arabian Nights prophesied their classmates' exploitations ten years hence and made known their last will and testament. Gifts were presented to the faculty and class officers, and the evening marked another memory in the hearts of the Class of '60.

Arabians prophesied mid smiles and sighs

ARABIAN EXPLOITATIONS predict the future about each senior; Laurie Kunkel, Joanne Bender, Pat Scally, Ellen Gould and Corinne Bowling enact the hilarious skit.

Tower...

How many times in the past the tower has drawn our glance upward, we have no way of numbering. But this we know — we have seen its meaning in the heights held before us, the goals laid ahead of us, the ideals taught us. For the future, the tower is our beacon. We step away from her light, perhaps hesitatingly, but we trust that in our pathway through life, its beam will guide us safely, and harbor us securely — in Notre Dame.

Climaxing eighty-seven years of instruction at the Charles Street campus, Notre Dame Preparatory School moves to Hampton Lane in September 1960. This exodus is the culmination of four years of planning on the part of Sister Mary Virginia and the faculty.

Beginning the search in 1956, the school finally purchased the Dulaney Valley site July 16, 1957. The contract with the architects, Taylor and Fisher, was signed November 7 of that year.

In 1958, Harry T. Campbell, Incorporated, agreed to clear the land and lay the drains and rough grading November 6. Assured of a future home, the school held ground-breaking ceremonies Sunday, November 9.

The Lawrence Construction Company was contracted as builders, Ascension Thursday, May 7, 1959. By October, much of the steel was erected. Despite the steel strike, the structure was completed by February, 1960. Stone finally encased the new building on May 20. Thus, Notre Dame resumes classes at the new site in September, 1960

SOPHOMORES' FAREWELL SONG TO SENIORS

Sister Class, we thank you
For guidance, care and love
You gave to us.
Now with misty eyes we bid our sad good-bye
To Green and White.
Your Loyalty will ever be a beacon in our sight
The spirit that prevailed o'er your class,
these four years
Consists of all your joys and your tears.
Soon you will depart on a journey afar.
Through you will be gone we'll recall
Times when you are sisters lent us a helping hand
In Freshman Year
Sophomore days now pass and with them
Sixty leaves our Notre Dame
So as we sing this last farewell
It's filled with love for you.

Your Sisters,
THE SOPHOMORES

ACHIEVEMENT

Achievement in General Contracting depends on two things: ability and reliability. At Consolidated, we have both. Since 1911 we have constructed "Anything . . . Any Size . . . Anywhere" throughout the United States and overseas.
